Pick Up the Pieces

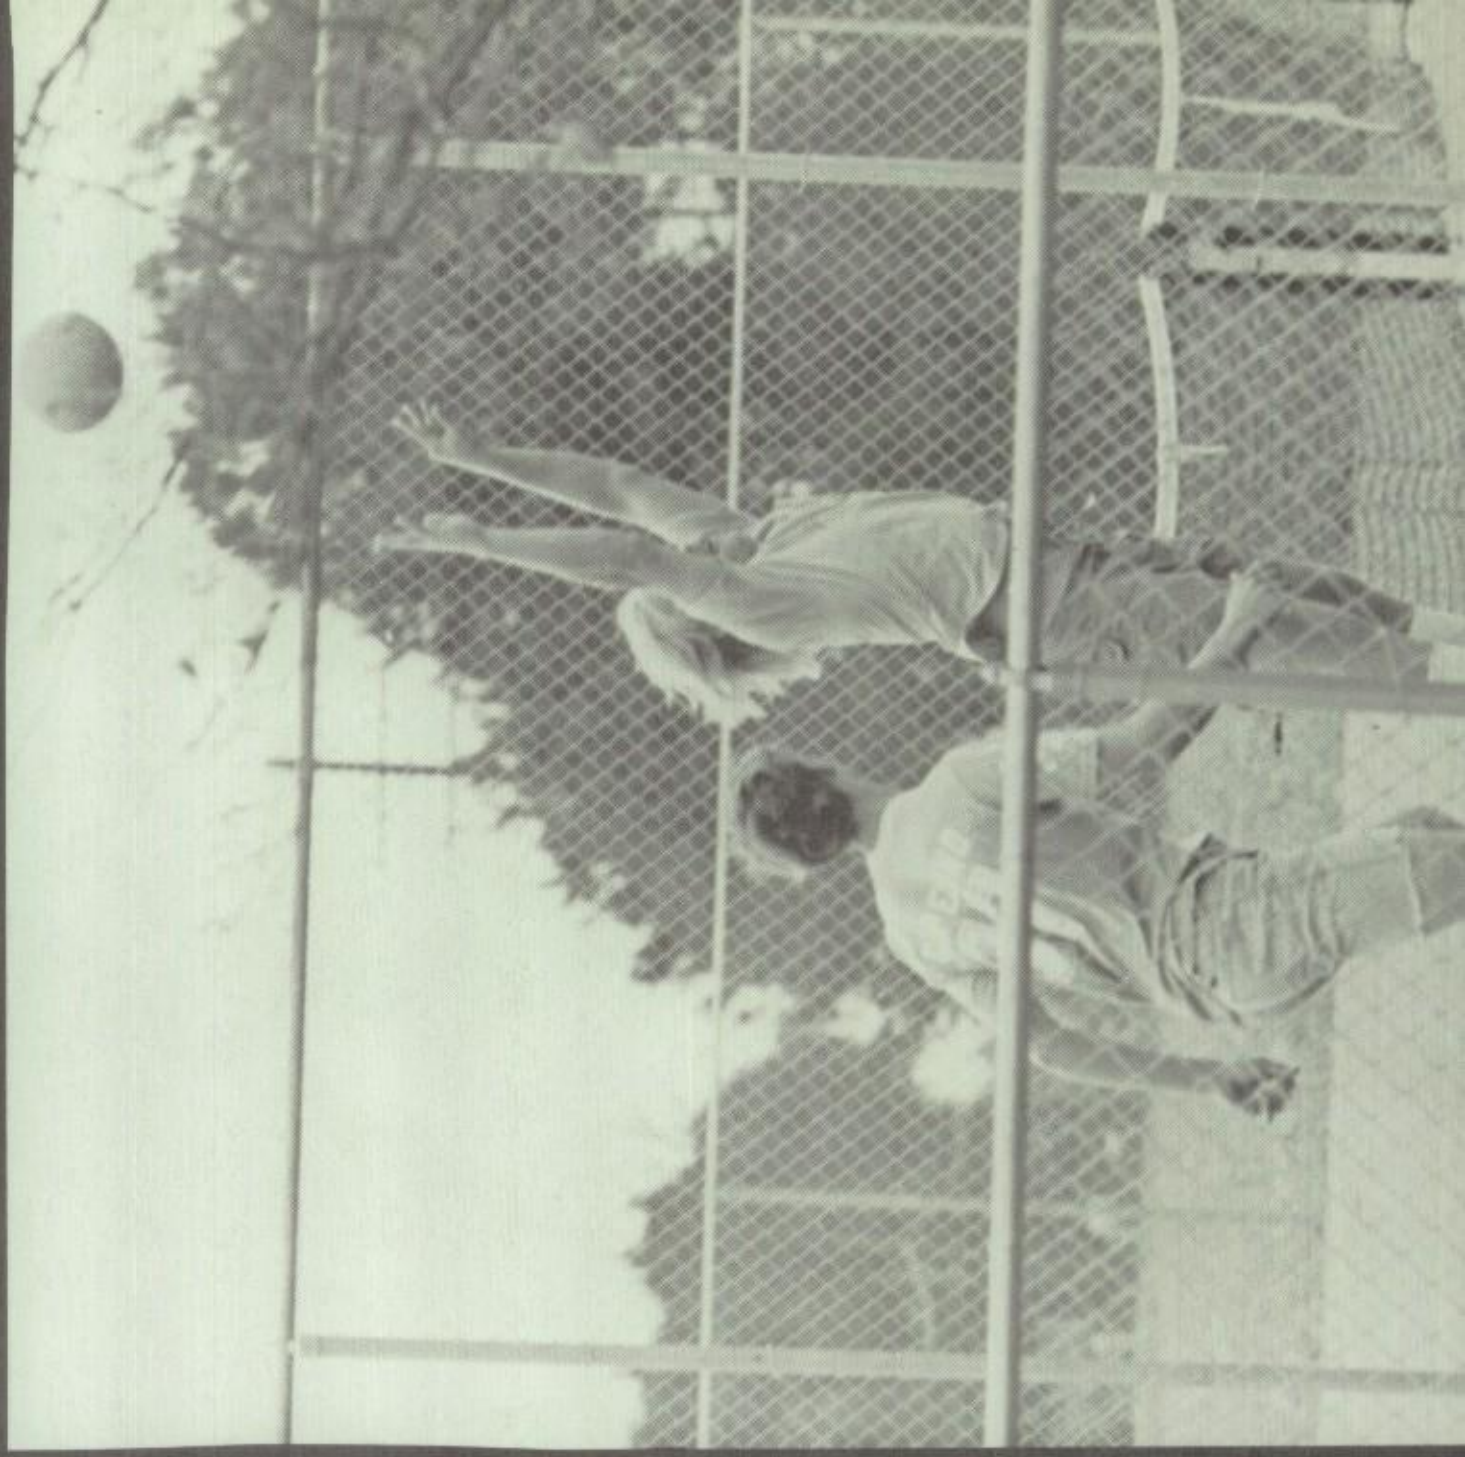

Our beginnings? In our day and time the answer becomes a puzzle. A puzzle so complex that all of the pieces do not fit as easily as we had hoped. We start to question our purpose of existence. Why must we go through each day facing the cold, ugly, false creations of today's society? We begin to feel there is no end to the oppression by those who feel they are a little better than we are. Those above us start to hinder our free lives. Are we being watched, analyzed, processed, and finally rejected? Our puzzled state grows and tension builds. The strain becomes great until we start to crack under the strain.

Is this all there is to life? The answer is simple. Look around. See the beauty, question it, and learn. Our beginnings? A question we must answer ourselves. Pick up the pieces of those who tried to answer it before. Once the edges are connected, the answer blooms.

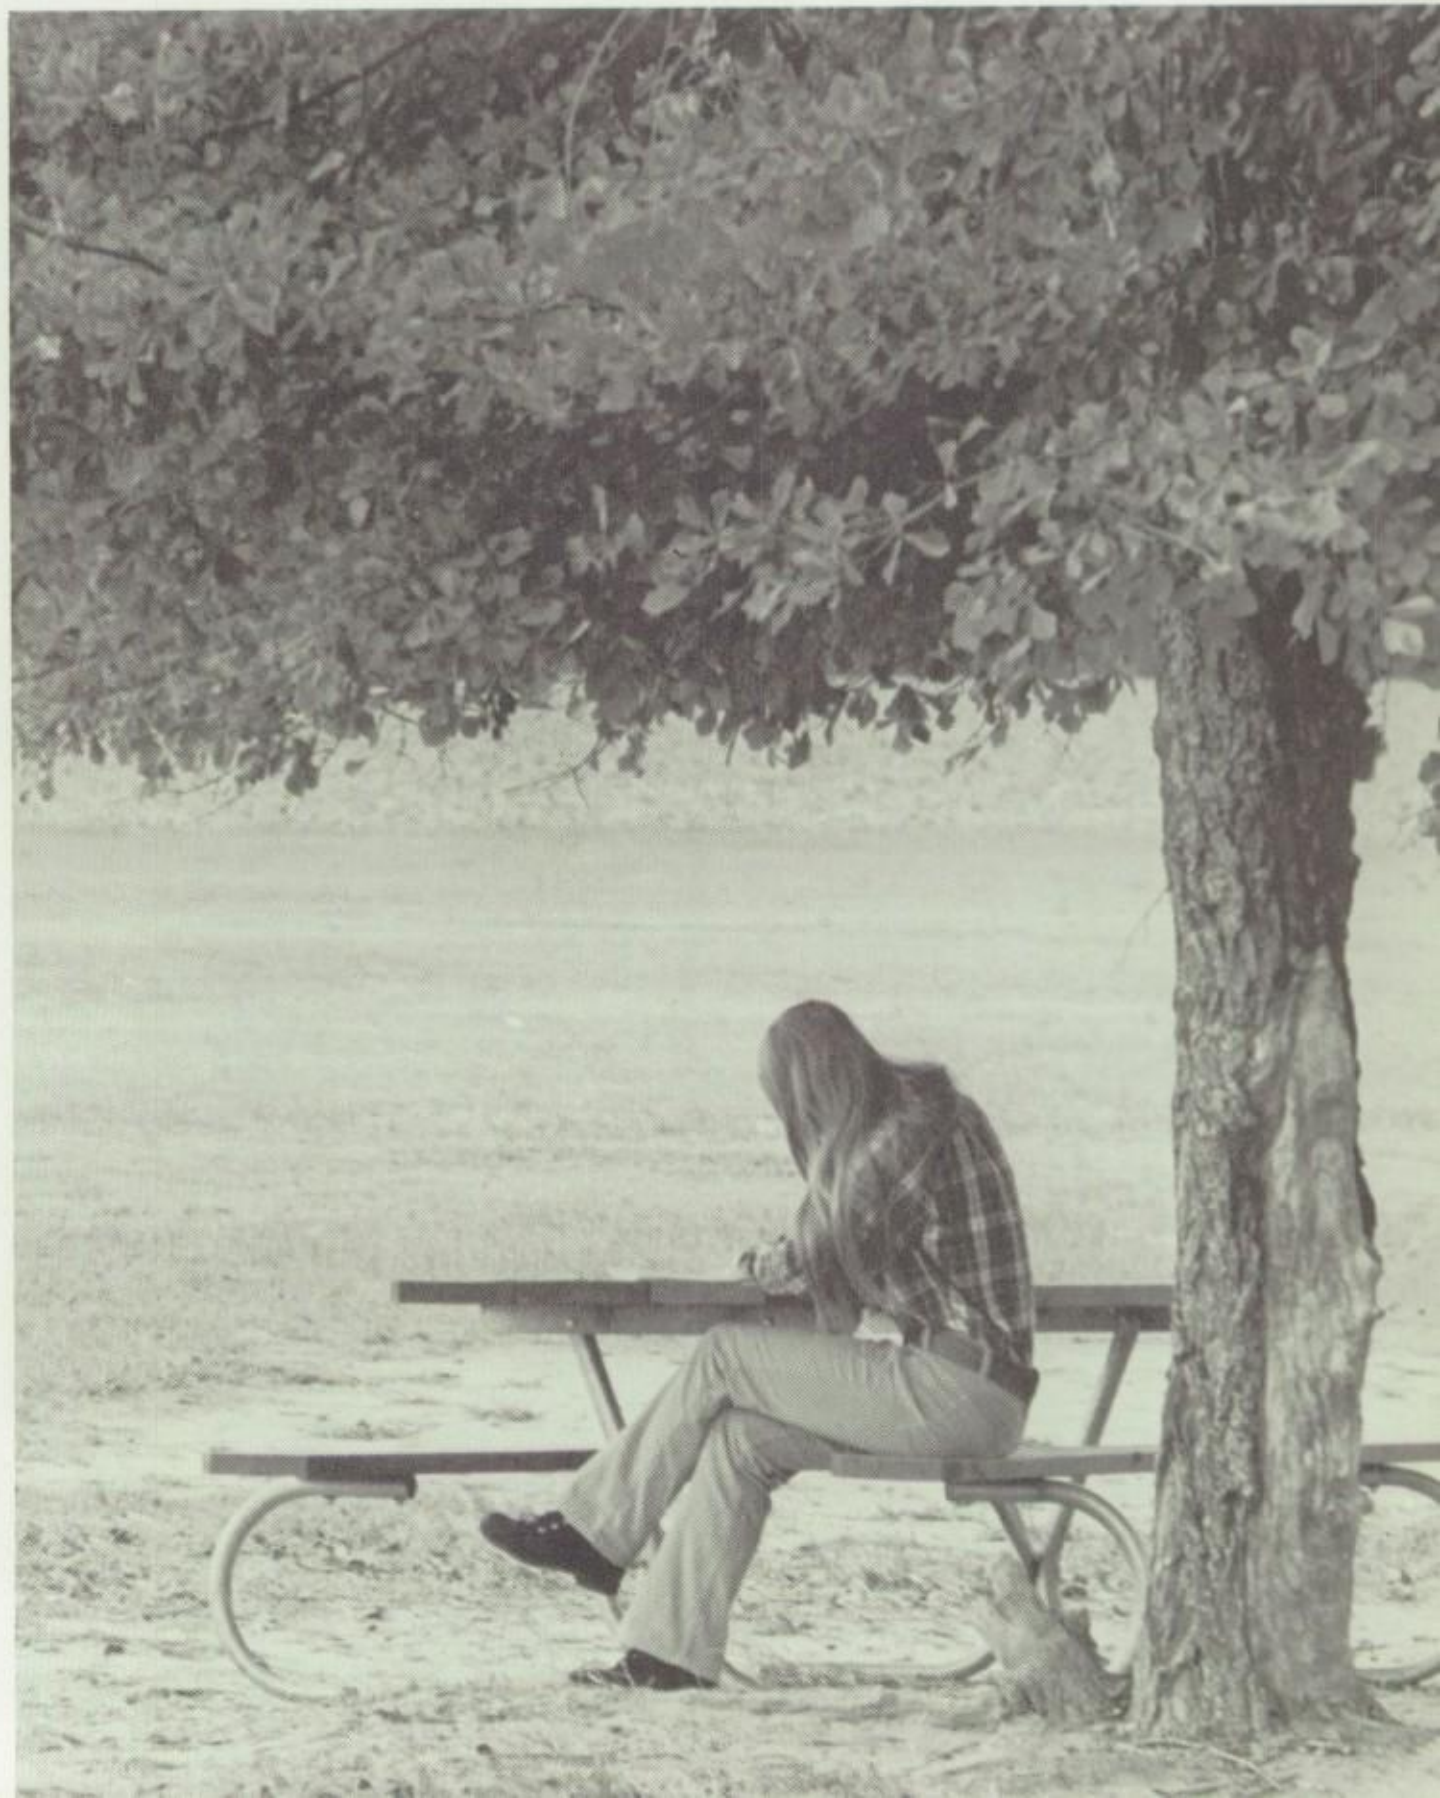

One of the purposes of education is to make social beings of us all. This is no minor aspect to our lives at CHS. We must learn to co-operate in groups, whether we are participating or observing. For without co-operation among individuals, the collective unit could not function. In a world beset with such human problems as over population, food shortages, and increasing prices, it is imperative that we learn to cope with these problems for the benefit of all. What are we but an accumulation of pieces – a people consisting of many persons? Yet each person contributes something vital to the whole.

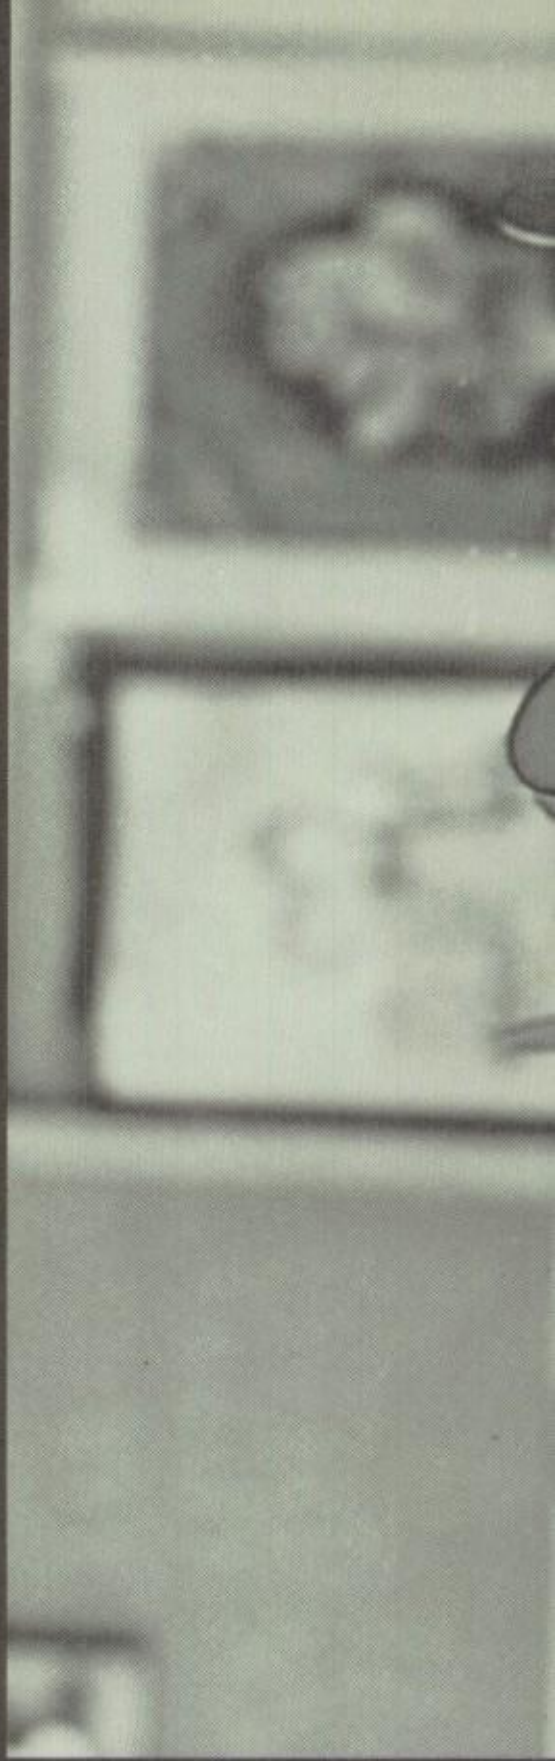

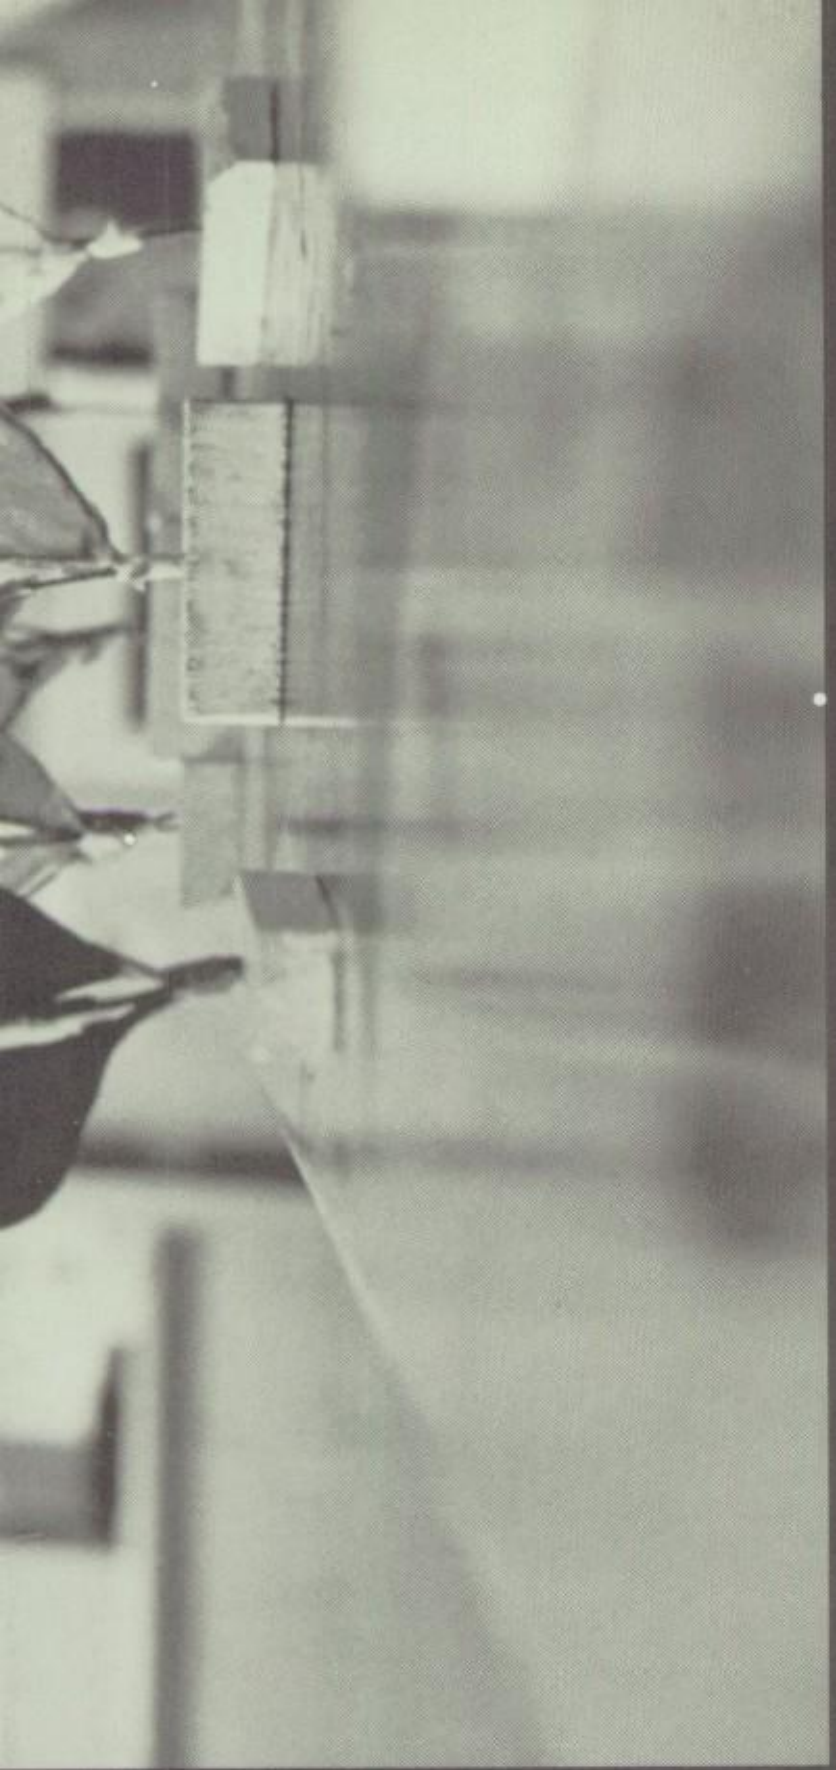

Hands reach out, touching in fear, loneliness, or love, searching for the right pieces to fill in the puzzle of our lives. We seek acceptance — being one of the crowd — or just being special to someone else. Sometimes we “stick our hands in our pockets” in an effort to escape, to be alone with our thoughts through nature, dreams, books, or a close friend. Occasionally we get it all together, only for someone or something to come along and tear it to pieces again. Thankfully, we have the capacity to pick them up and start anew.

This is the day of "doing your own thing" whether it be welding, pursuing the secrets of the universe, eating, sleeping, or "being cool." We all get upset at times — like being put into a class to fill out that sixth subject. But occasionally we realize that is what education is all about — being exposed to different subjects that may eventually fit into the framework of our lives — the pieces that do not seem to belong right now can become vital to the complete picture.

Dedication

She was one of the first teachers many of us could say we saw eye-to-eye with, not only because of her understanding ways but because of her height. Despite her petite size, she has a great capacity for patience and love. Upon entering her room, one is immediately aware of her concern for people and things, as characterized by her dedication to the young she strives to enlighten. Oftentimes former students are seen there seeking advice or a listening ear. Much of her success as a teacher comes from this concern for each person as an individual.

In this small way, we, the staff of the 1975 CHOWAN CHIEF, wish to dedicate this issue as a token of our gratitude and never ending love to Miss Elsie Miller.

She inspires the love of learning because of her interests in the students and not the subject. Having children, she considers each child her own.

Project Score

Students interviewing car dealers, airplane pilots, stewardesses, fishermen, farmers; students learning basic principles of fashion design, commercial art and photography; teachers writing and compiling activity packages, which will improve their students' communications skills while giving them an awareness and appreciation for the world of work — this is Project SCORE.

Student Communications and Occupations Related Experiences is a federally-funded experimental project involving language arts and social studies classes in grades seven through ten. If SCORE is successful, it should not only benefit the students at Chowan High School, but the project will serve also as a model for similar school units operating with limited funds.

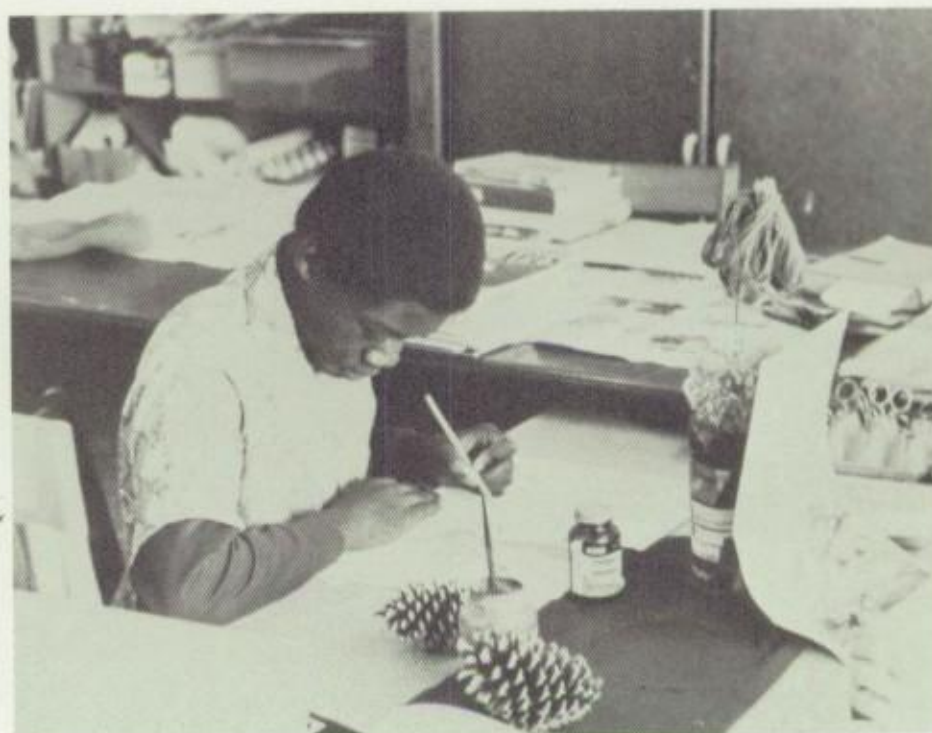

Art

The CHS art department for 1974-1975 consisted of two high school classes — Art I and Art II. Each of grades five through eight participated in art for one semester during the year.

High school projects this year have included: a field trip to visit the Art Train in Washington, N. C.; laps in lettering, mechanical drawing, and figure drawing; tie-dyeing and batiking, paper sculpture; and what most students always enjoy — acrylic and oil painting.

Elementary students have touched on a wide range of projects, ranging from temporary painting, portrait drawings, advertising, murals, holiday crafts, to scratch art.

Business

With a curriculum of typewriting, shorthand, and accounting, our business department offers a program that encompasses work experience and leads to office careers.

To better prepare high school youths for careers in office occupations, students are learning earphone skills by transcribing from dictaphone and cassette dictation.

To add to their office training, the electric calculator touch control is being taught with the accounting course.

Skills and knowledge acquired in the business department will qualify students for office employment, or defray college expenses, and also provide background information for advanced study in business education or business administration.

English

The English department has undergone some changes this year. The ninth and tenth grades have been participating in Project SCORE, learning about various career opportunities and preparing themselves for future jobs. The eleventh and twelfth grades have concentrated on grammar improvement through using the "Macmillan Series" of programmed instruction. Literary studies have included contemporary works in the "Concerns of Man" series: LOVE, FAMILY, BROTHERHOOD, WAR & PEACE, and SEARCH FOR SELF, as well as classic works from American and British literature: THE CRUCIBLE, THE SCARLET LETTER, THE CANTERBURY TALES, OEDIPUS THE KING, and MACBETH.

The most successful ventures are when the students are allowed to express themselves through poetry, short stories, and other works.

French Club

The highlight of Mrs. Diggs' teaching career was the opportunity to tour Paris, France, with members of her classes in April of 1974. With Mrs. Diggs is Brad Hollowell, Jill Hendrix, Scott Peele, Beth Boswell, Gene Jordan, Al Peele, Mark Long, Roddy Leary, and Bill Mansfield who supplied the picture.

Library Club

Mrs. Margaret Smithson, librarian, is certainly the heart of the library as it could not function without her hard work and devotion.

In October, our local club sponsored the twelfth annual convention of the Northeastern District North Carolina High School Library Association. As vice-president of the district, Brad Hollowell presided over most of the day's activities. Nine schools were represented with approximately 200 people attending. Chowan was pleased and very proud of this unified effort by so many.

Math

From simple arithmetic to the scary sound of "modern math", numbers have taken on a new dimension. New names appear such as algebra, geometry, and trigonometry.

Simple adding, subtracting, multiplying, and dividing have grown to:

$$\begin{aligned}
 & \frac{4p \cos \theta + \sqrt{16p^2 \cos^2 \theta + 16p^2 \sin^2 \theta}}{2 \sin^2 \theta} \\
 &= \frac{4p \cos \theta + 4p \sqrt{\cos^2 \theta + \sin^2 \theta}}{2 \sin^2 \theta} \\
 &= \frac{4p \cos \theta + 4p}{2 \sin^2 \theta} \\
 &= \frac{2p (\cos \theta + 1)}{1 - \cos^2 \theta} \\
 &= \frac{2p (\cos \theta + 1)}{(1 + \cos \theta)(1 - \cos \theta)} \\
 & p = \frac{2p}{1 - \cos \theta}
 \end{aligned}$$

What does that mean?

Glee Club

The Glee Club has demonstrated a concern for improvement in its program. Not only have the students been learning the traditional compositions of their level, but they are beginning to develop an understanding in the "mechanics" of music.

During the Christmas season, the Glee Club sang a selection of popular Christmas music for the student body during their annual Christmas program. The Glee Club members presented their Spring Concert during the latter part of April to conclude their year of musical activities.

CHS Band

A new sound was heard around CHS this year. The sound of brass was echoed down the halls by a number of students from grades six through eight. Believe it or not, it was the beginning of Chowan's first band under the leadership of Mr. Otis Strothers.

Music

Physical Education

Physical education seeks to bring about changes in the individual through his movement experiences. This change is not only to concern the physical development of an individual but the mental development as well. The process is achieved through instruction in a wide variety of activities which include team sports and an understanding of teamplay, fairplay, and sportsmanship and individual sports which provide for intense personal gratification. It is the belief of the department that through these activities, each individual will be provided with a successful experience with which to identify. Activities include soccer, football, tennis, softball, track, ping-pong, paddleball, badminton, volleyball, horseshoes, tumbling, apparatus education (trampoline, balance beam, and reuther board), and basketball.

Science

The aims and objectives of the science department extend far above the acquisition of knowledge about the applications of science. The science courses, we are hoping, serve the student best when they are used as vehicles for less tangible educational goals. The courses offered are the practice laboratory in which the attitudes of the so-called "scientific method" are not merely recognized and recited, but are reinforced by use.

Several of our students participated in a science seminar at East Carolina this fall. Additional students attended a three-day workshop at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill this spring.

Realizing that every science, as it matures, becomes a fusion of two elements — observational facts and theoretical concepts — we at Chowan are on the upgrade through the addition of new apparatus and materials.

Social Studies

This year the social studies department has focused attention on such current events as world population, poverty, busing, women's lib, prisons, court procedure, and euthanasia. A mock constitutional convention and study of government culminated in a trip to the nation's capitol. World cultures classes have "circled" the globe and made displays on Indian culture. Other classes have fought the Civil War and the two World Wars.

Junior High

They never want to be thought of as elementary any longer since their next step is into high school. They are the "big guys" of grades seven and eight who are setting their sights for more challenging stages of school life. Recess has disappeared and become a class. No longer do they sit in one room the day long and listen to one teacher. Now they start to meet some of the responsibilities that will be expected of them in the future.

We are following the footsteps of those before us, knowing one day we will be there too. We may not follow the exact path because things are changing. We are too.

We like to think that each of our teachers and administrators has the student's best interest at heart and strives to make him a fitting piece in the puzzle of humanity.

A teacher's job is not so much to teach the child, but to show him how to find what is within himself. The faculty at Chowan tries to do just that. Being confronted with a barrier of apathy makes that effort sometimes futile.

Sports

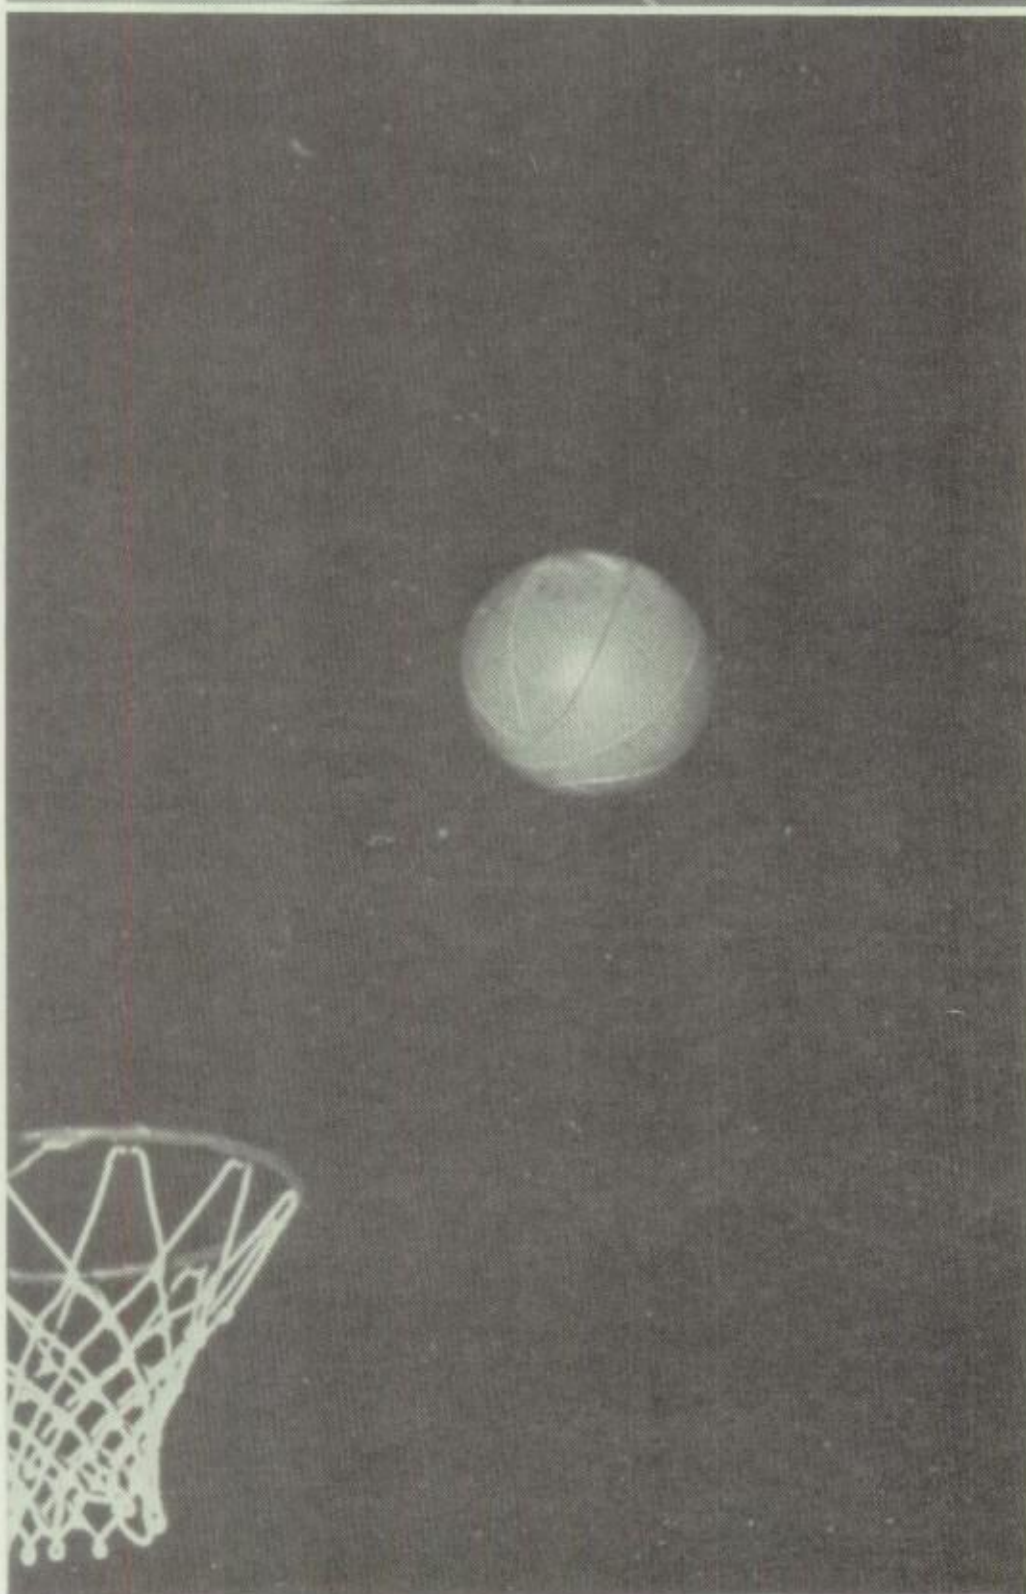

Sports

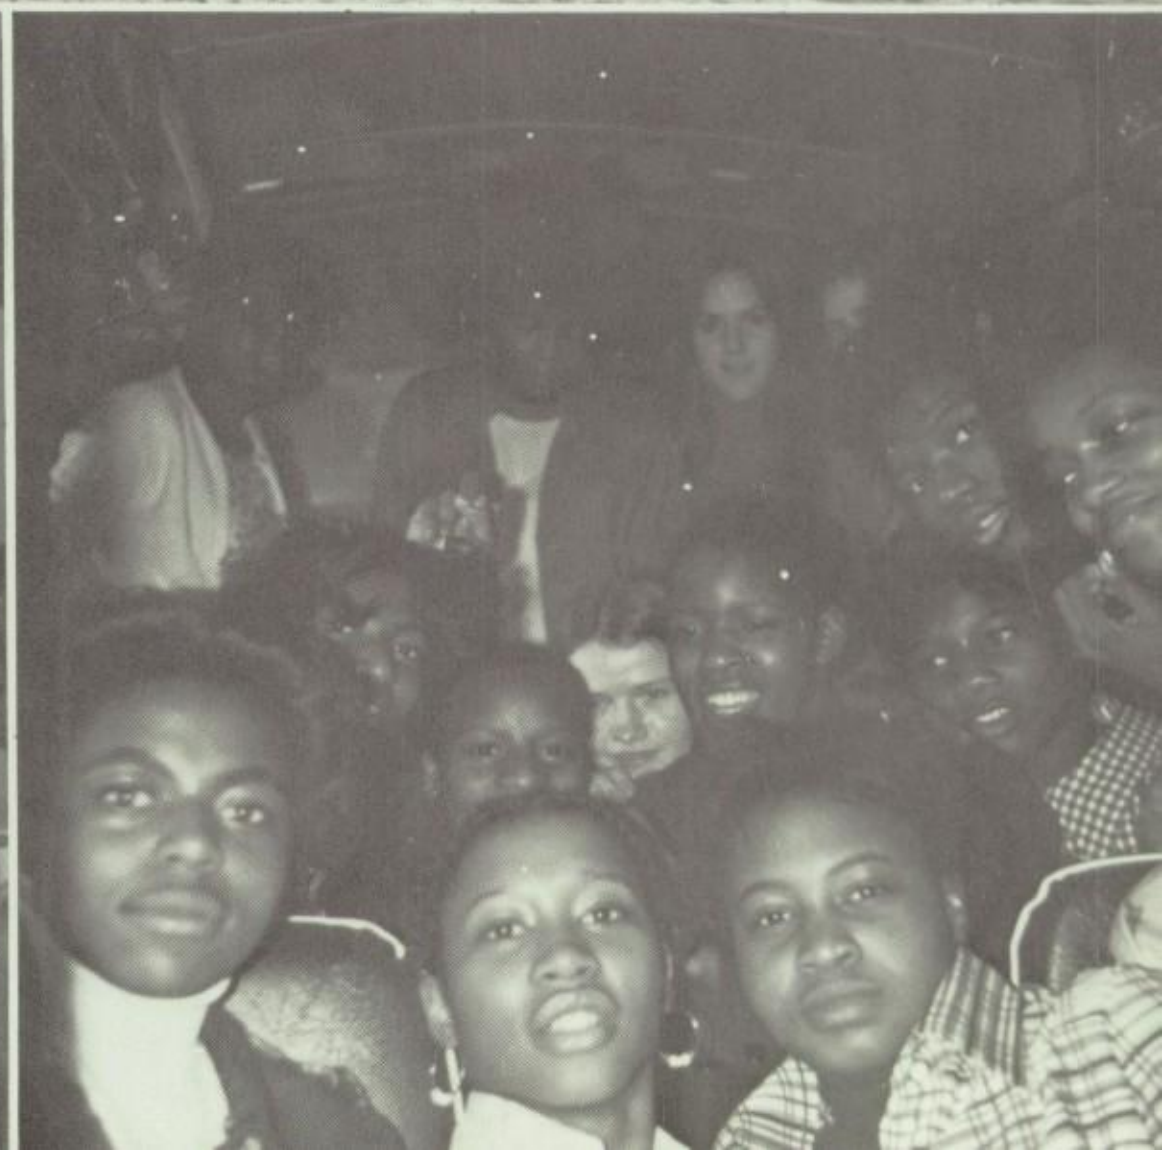

The highlight of CHS's athletic program is the basketball season. Athletic Director, Harry Land, Jr., coaches girls and boys varsity teams while Coach Rob Boyce handles the Junior varsity and baseball teams.

Home games are special occasions for the entire school, and students who don't play take an active part as managers, scorekeepers, announcers, or enthusiastic fans.

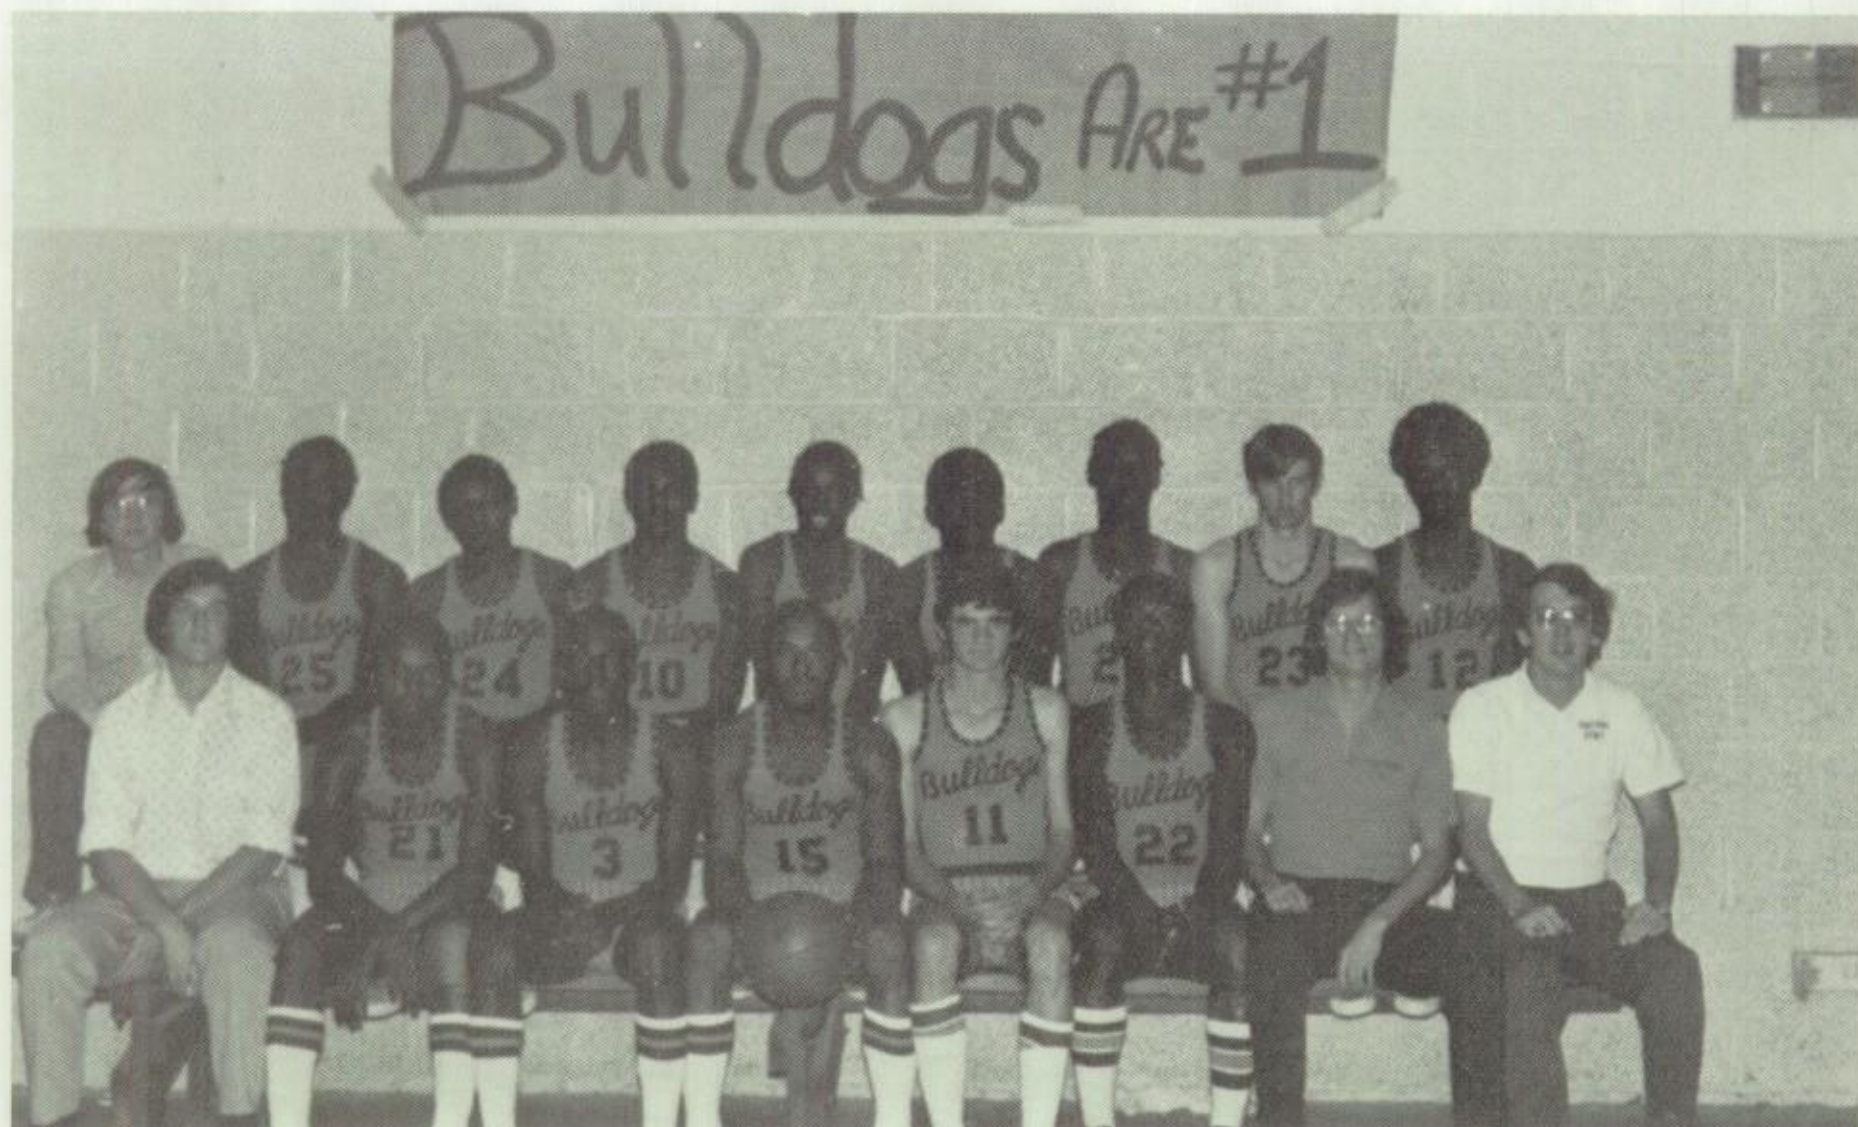

The away games are equally festive with fried chicken plates, "rat fink", private tete a tetes, cassette players, and group singing.

Individual prejudices and egos are forsaken for team effort and enthusiasm.

Bulldogs

Bottom row l-r; Al Peele mgr., James Copeland, Perlle Cofield, Melvin Roberts, Gene Jordan, Carless Wilson, Coach Harry Land, and Coach Rob Boyce.

This year has been another winning season with the boys taking first place. Chances for a district win were enhanced by a win over Belhaven, the team that beat us in three previous district playoffs.

Despite injuries, "Hop" Roberts has impressed fans with his natural talent.

Defense has again been the key to our success with "Zert" Cofield at the point, "Cas" Fain's quick hands, and "Flip" Wilson's consistent hitting, pulling us out at crucial moments.

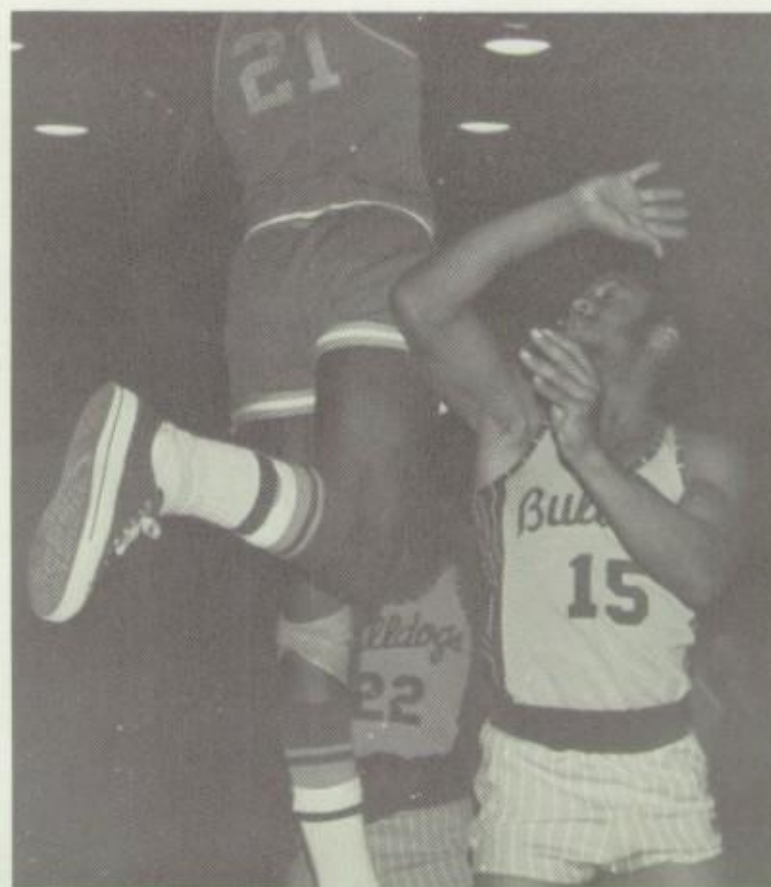

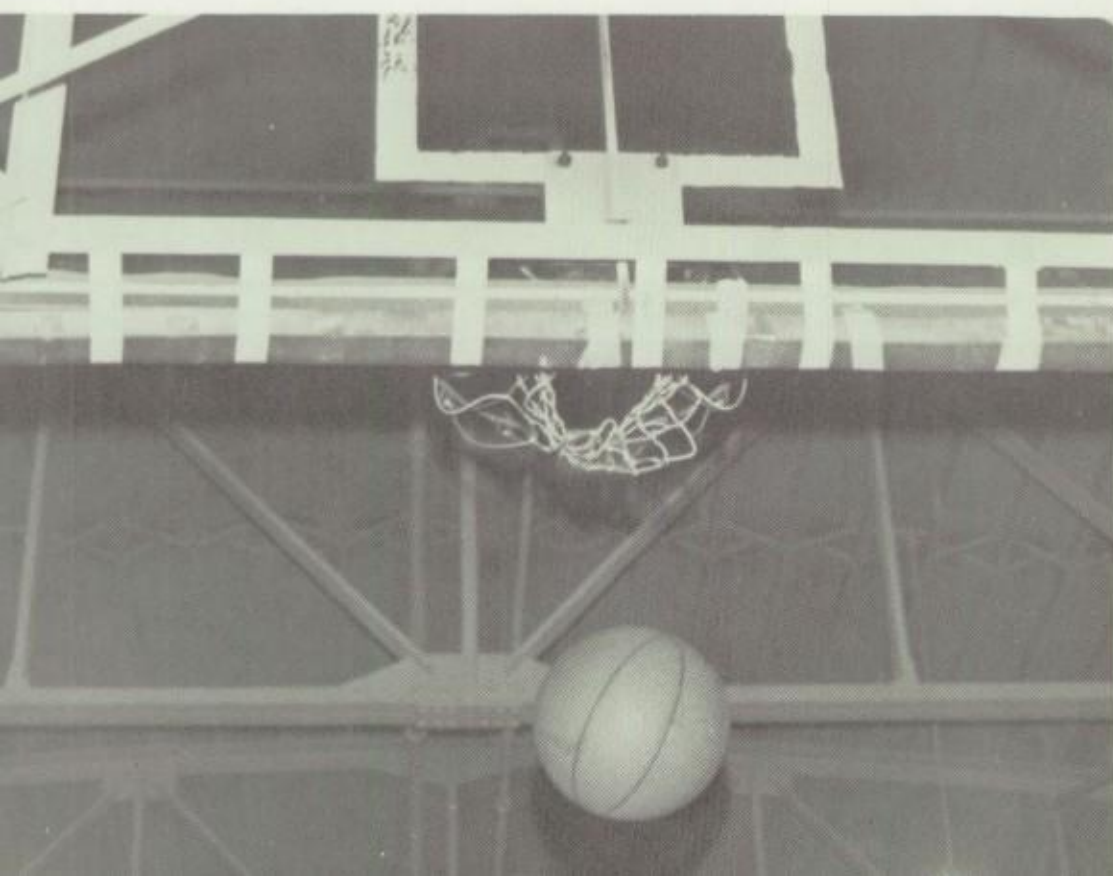

Coach Land goes over the offensive play books with the team.

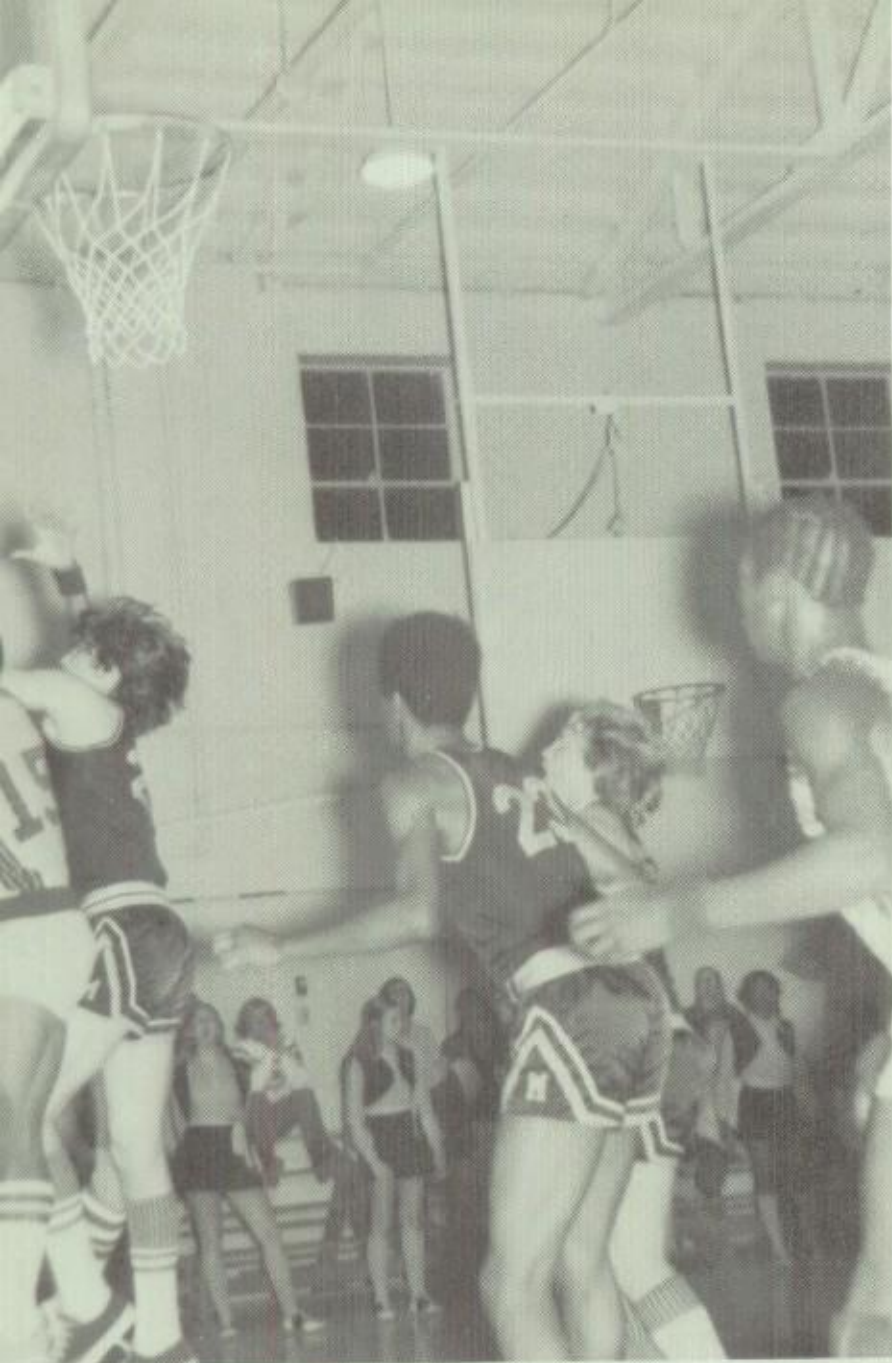

"Mac" snatches a rebound while Melvin, Perlie, and Larry ready for the fast break.

Melvin gets one off with a man in his eye.

Anticipation — once the shot is off, timing is crucial in playing the board.

Melvin outpaces his man for an easy lay-up.

Debbie Davenport is caught up in a fast-moving game.

Bulldogettes

The Bulldogettes had to fight their way to the top this year, with only Rosa Cofield and Mary Sawyer returning as experienced players. They and Coach Land had to help the rookies learn plays and positions. Mary Holley proved a valuable asset with her height and shooting ability. Loretta Morris and Kathy Byrum rounded out the starting line-up.

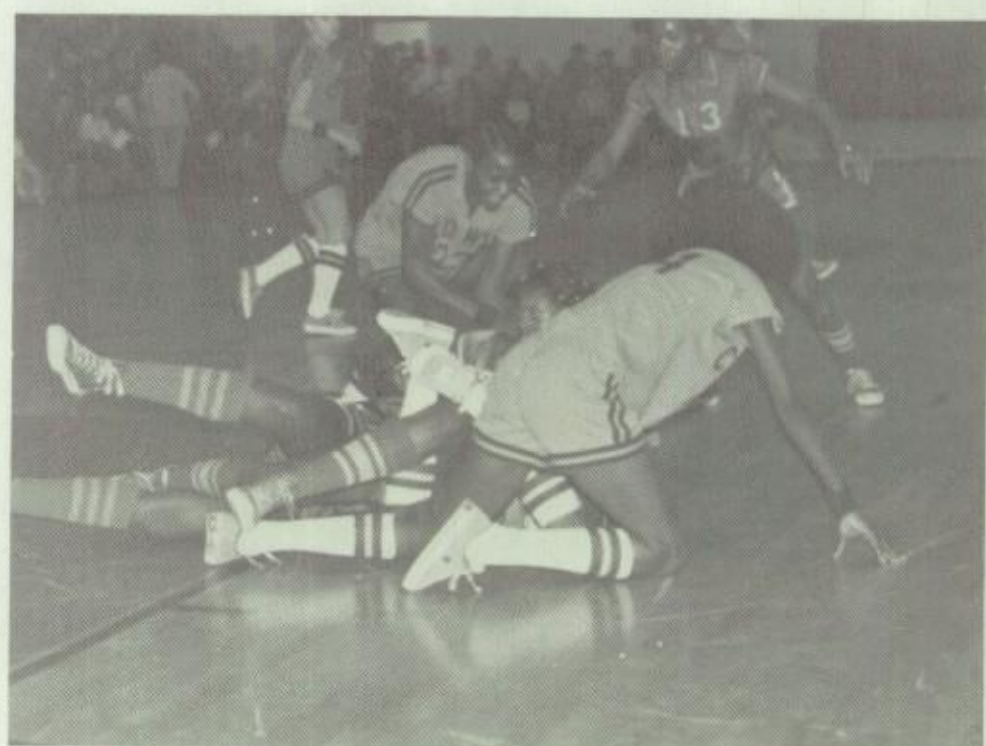

The girls tied for first place in conference play and runners-up in the tournament, entitling them to go into district playoffs.

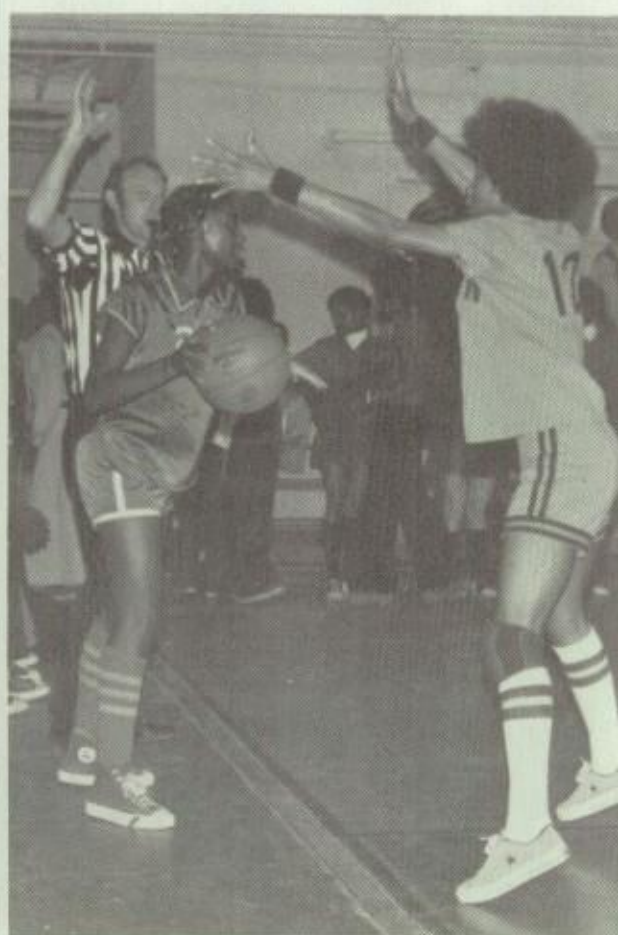

The huddle — getting it together to correct those errors that cause losses.

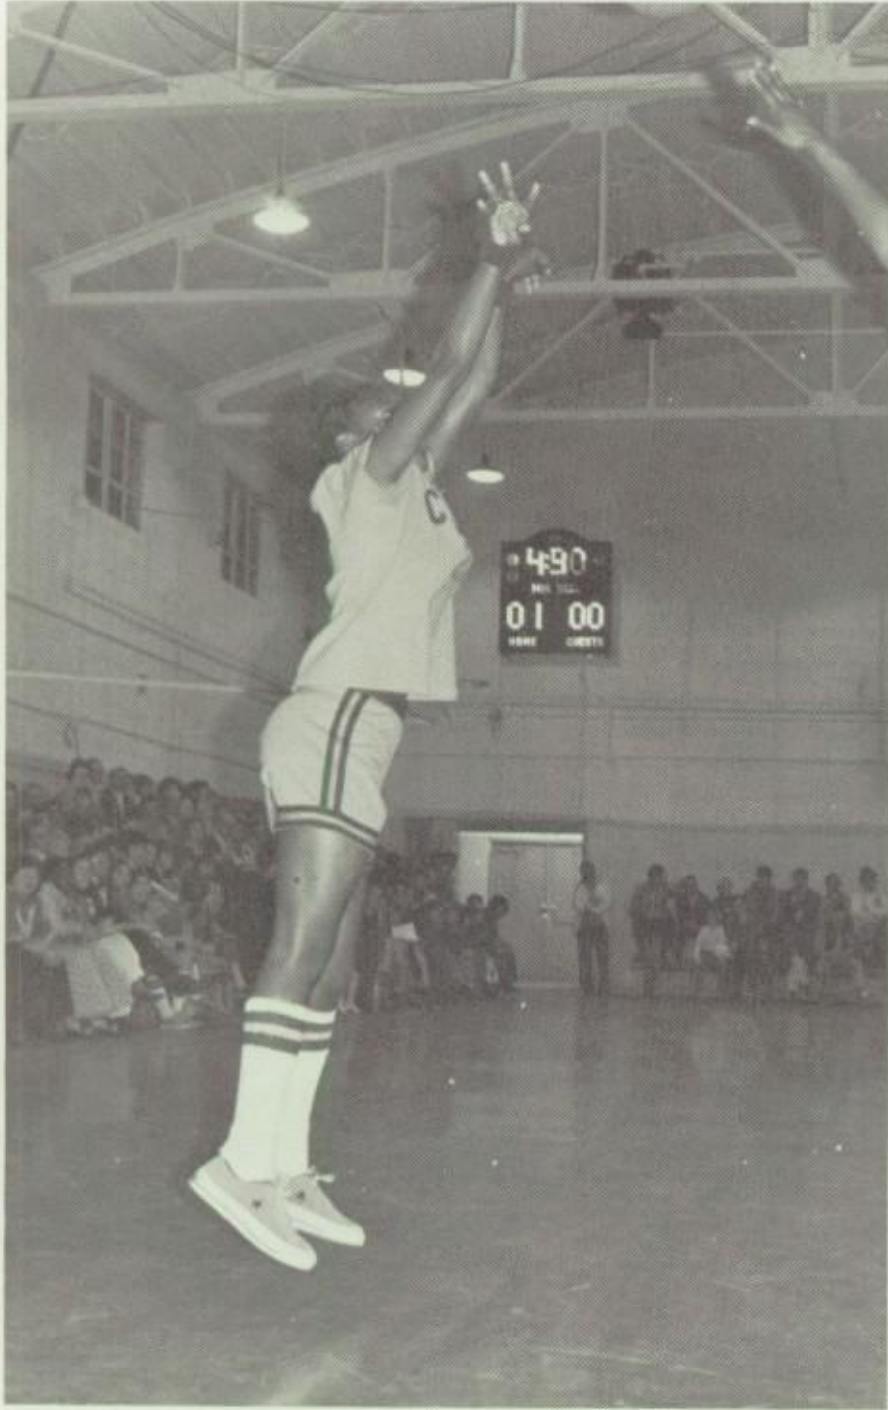

Mary Sawyer ambidexterously brings the ball down court to set up the play.

"The loose ball — dive for it and at least get a jump ball."

The press worked effectively in forcing turnovers.

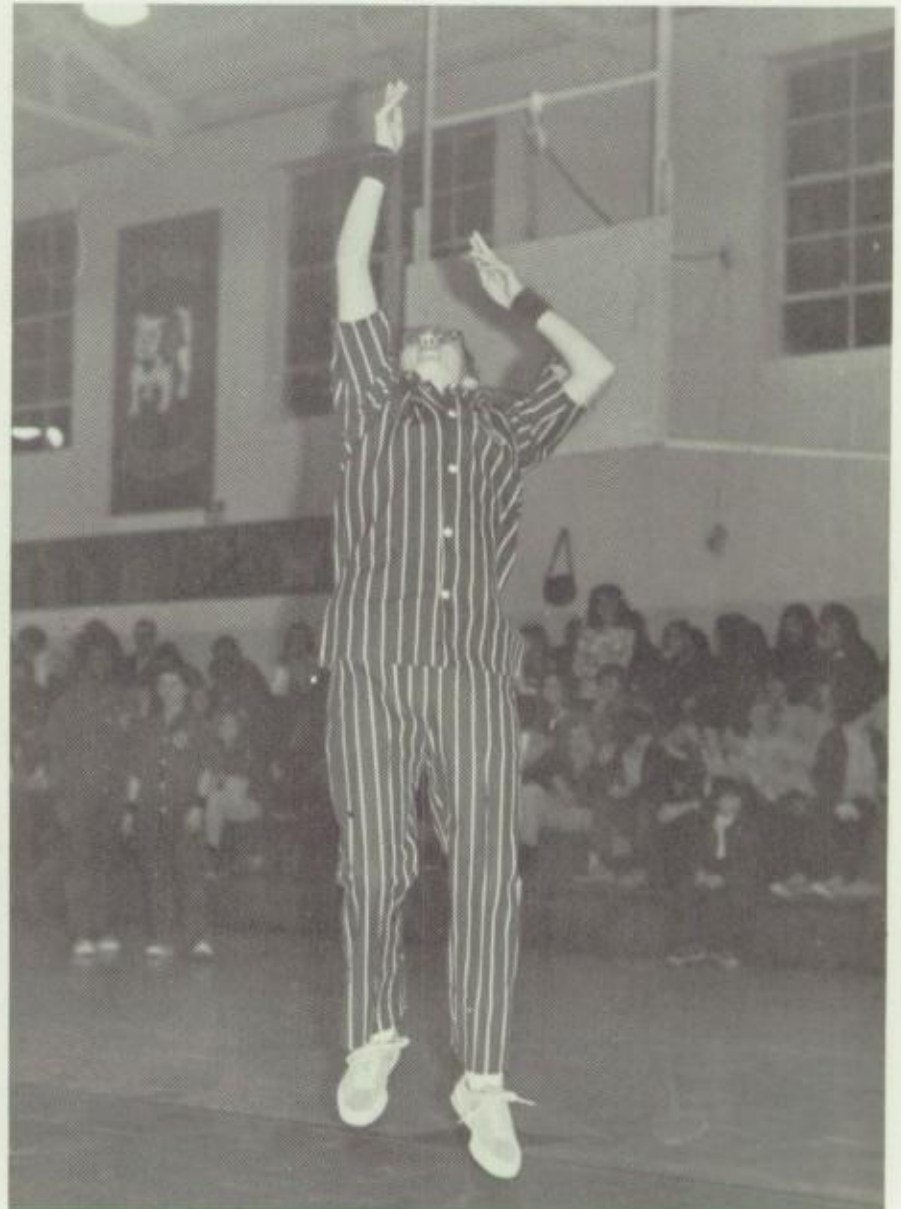

Rosa excites the crowd with her fantastic shooting abilities along with her fine defensive maneuvers.

Eleanor Boyce yanks one off the boards.

There are two sides to every ball player — offensive and defensive. Mary Sawyer performs both well.

Chris Clark practices her shooting during pre-game warm-up.

New dimensions for cheering were added as they used gymnastic stunts in various cheers. These stunts have promoted enthusiasm and spirit among Bulldog fans.

However, this spirit was not only shown on the court during a game. While riding to the destination of an away game, the cheerleaders sang the school song and cheered to give the players the satisfaction of knowing that they were receiving full support.

When a game was to be played at Chowan, the cheerleaders made buttons for each ball player to be recognized during the school day.

Chowan's cheerleaders were as much a part of basketball as the players themselves. Their emotions were readily seen to show the outcome of a game.

Baby Bulldogs

The baby Bulldogs had a few wins this year, but wound up in third place. Losing all its starters to the varsity, the team was inexperienced, but Coach Boyce spent many torturous hours teaching the fundamentals of basketball so they could in a few games.

Knowing the fundamentals paid off for Bob Jordan when he was selected as an All-Conference player.

The team effort was led by Alvin Winslow, Bob Jordan, and Johnny Boyce. Even though the players were tough, it was hard to get the initial spark to get the offense and defense started.

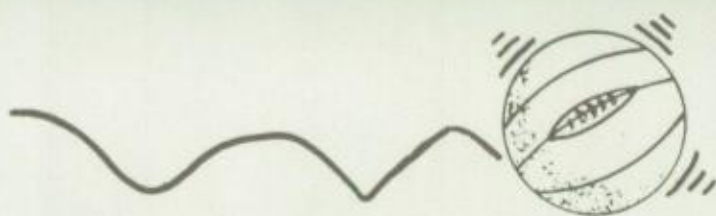

Johnny Boyce is trapped in the air as he can't get a shot or pass off.

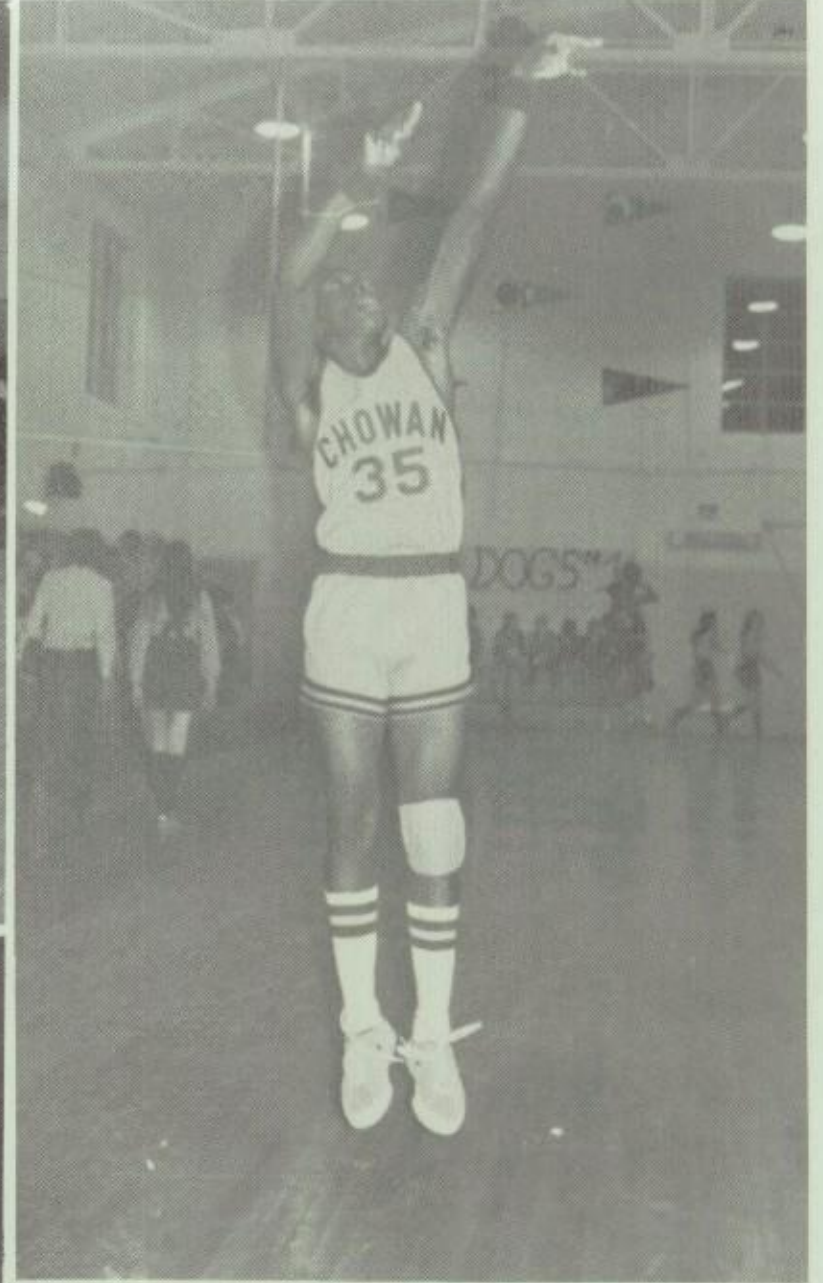

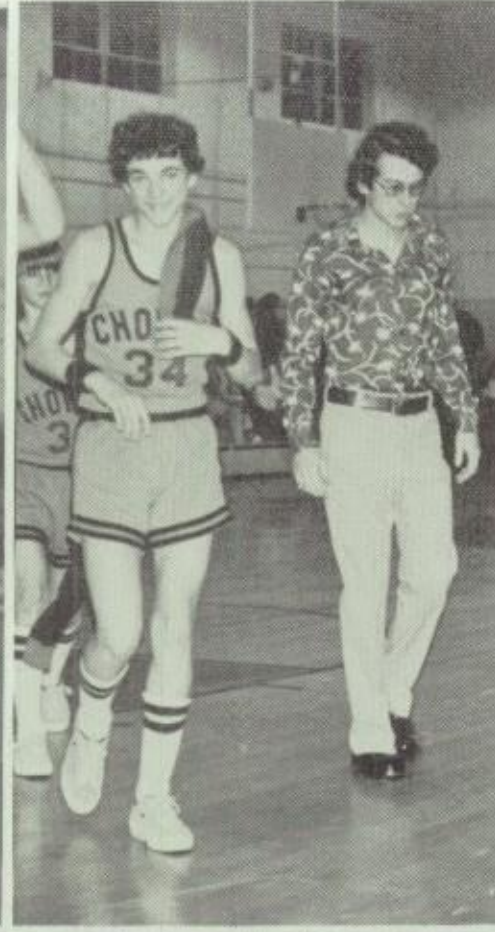

Alvin Winslow barely gets his shot off as an opponent attempts to block it.

A Baby Bulldog steals the ball from an opposing player.

Special

Events

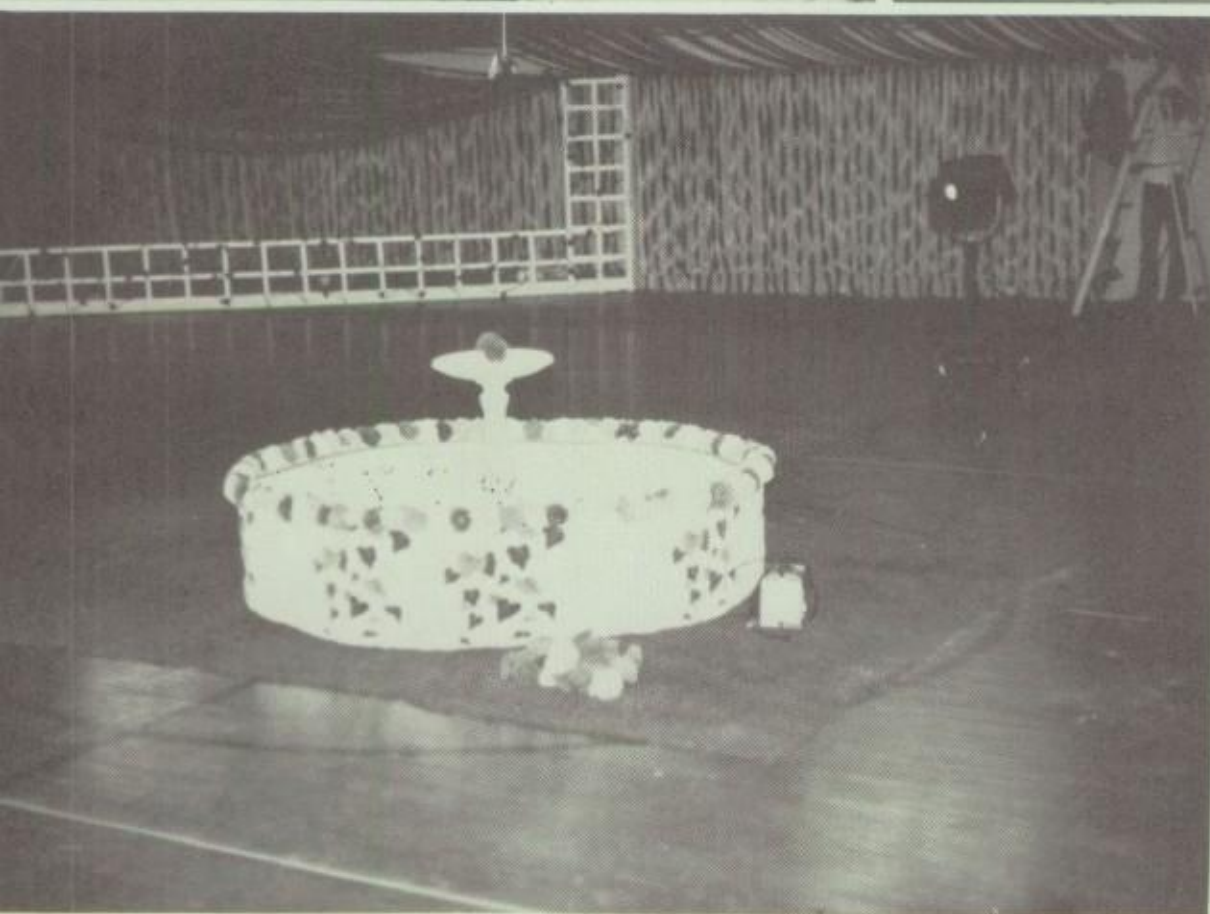

Precious and Few

Many hours of hanging crepe paper, erecting a new bandstand, hanging butterflies, and chopping trees paid off in the gala production of the Junior-Senior Prom, "Precious and Few". The gazebo at the entrance made an elaborate archway for all as they arrived. The entertainment depicted various facets of young love and living. Furnishing the music was Lyon from Norfolk, Virginia.

Though important in the lives of many, its successful end brought a sigh of relief.

Bicentennial

Edenton celebrated its Bicentennial on October with a parade, a reenactment of the tea party by the Holmes' drama classes, and a powder puff football game between Chowan and Holmes High Schools.

Mrs. Clara Boswell leads a colonial day women's liberation movement.

Team Cheerleaders: Frank Leary, Butch Feige, Doug Elliott, Steve Flemming.

Townspeople enjoy the colonial festivities in the courtyard of the nation's oldest courthouse in Edenton.

Stairway to Heaven

"Stairway to Heaven" was the theme for the 1975 Homecoming festivities. The evening was marked to be one of great success and beauty as the seniors had worked diligently to prepare it.

Each class was represented by lovely young ladies who were chosen by their classmates. Miss CHS, Kathy Byrum, was also recognized on this special occasion.

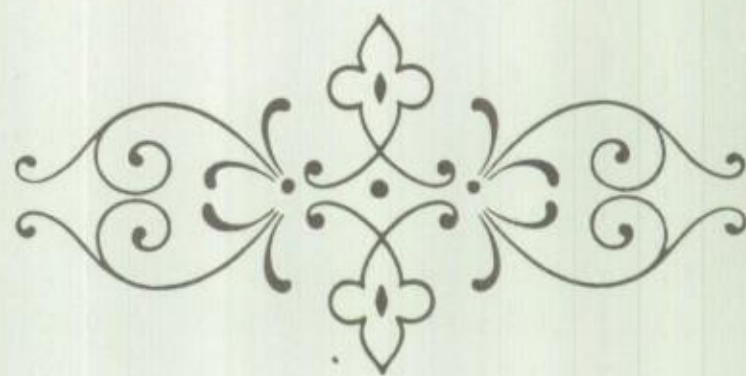

Reigning over the court as Homecoming Queen was Jill Hendrix, being crowned by last year's queen, Thomasinia Hall.

A highlight of the evening was the participation of senior mascots, Tammy Hare and Brian Rascoe.

Don't Say "Good-Bye"

*There's one word in the English language
That always makes me cry.
And should you care to ask
That word is GOOD-BYE.
Why can't we use other words
Without a hopeless sound,
Just say "I'll see you"
No matter where we're bound.
The same God watches over us
Be we near or far apart
Never part with sorrow
When love makes peace at heart.*

Maggie Harrell

In recognition of her thirty years' service in the teaching profession, we dedicate this page to Mrs. Anne Asbell. She is ageless and tireless in her efforts to convey the value of an education. She has taught nearly every subject at one time or another and served as girls basketball coach. Her strict classroom discipline, coupled with a warm smile and pat on the back when deserved, endeared her to all of us and made us strive for higher plains of learning.

Be a piece of today to find peace in the tomorrow.

'Ms. A., The Boss'

Our "expensive" representative from Delmar, Ferril Harrison.

*Now I lay me down to sleep
I am glad the annual left last week.*

*With copy mistakes and pictures too,
To finish this — book for you.*

*Dear God, before I close this cover,
Assure me that I will fully recover
From all the headaches and pains,
And prove to me it was not in vain.*

*Here's wishing you the best
In an annual this year,
For the staff can now rest
And shed not another tear.*
